Effective 4th November 2022

This policy describes how Jupitice uses cookies on www.jupitice.com (the "Site"). We recommend that you consult our Privacy Policy for any additional information on how we use collected information from visitors to the Site. The effective date of the policy is 11-01-2022. The continued use of the Site by you will signify your acceptance of this policy. We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will not reduce your rights under this Privacy Policy without your explicit consent. We always indicate the date the last changes were published and we offer access to archived versions for your review. If changes are significant, we'll provide a more prominent notice (including, for certain services, email notification of Privacy Policy changes). We may modify this Policy from time to time without notifying you, so please check back for more updates.

By using the Site, you agree that we can use the cookies described in this Cookie Policy. If you want to stop cookies than you can change the settings in your browser (more information on how to do this is provided below).

WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies contain such amount of information, which are downloaded to your browsing device (for example your computers or smartphone) when you visit the site. Cookies can also be recognized by the website that downloaded the cookies — or other websites that use the same cookies. This helps websites to know that if the browsing device has visited them before.

Cookies set by the website owner (in this case, Jupitice Justice Technologies Private Limited) are called "first party cookies". Cookies set by parties other than the website owner are called "third party cookies". Third party cookies enable third party features or functionality to be provided on or through the website (e.g. like advertising, interactive content and analytics). The parties that set these third party cookies can recognize your browsing device both when it visits the website in question and also when it visits certain other websites.

WHAT ARE COOKIES USED FOR?

Cookies have a lot of different jobs to do, like helping us to understand how you use the Site, remembering your preferences, letting you navigate between pages efficiently, and also improves your browsing experiences. Cookies also make ensure that the marketing you see online is more relevant to your interests.

WHAT TYPES OF COOKIES DOES JUPITICE USE?

The type of cookies most websites generally use can be put into three categories: Strictly Necessary, Performance, Functionality. In order to provide you with the best browsing experience, Jupitice uses all of these three categories on the Site. You can find out more about each cookie category in the sections below.

STRICTLY NECESSARY COOKIES

Strictly Necessary cookies are essential, as they enable you to look around the Site and use its features, for example accessing secure areas. Without having these cookies, some services that you have asked for such as payment submission can't be provided.

PERFORMANCE COOKIES

Performance cookies collect information about how you use the Site, for example pages you visited the most and if you receive error messages from certain pages. All the information these cookies collect is anonymous and is only used to improve the working of the Site.

FUNCTIONALITY COOKIES

Functionality cookies remembers the choices you make on the site (such as your user name, language or the country you're in). For instance, to remember your language preference, the Site also uses functionality cookies. They don't track browsing activity and are anonymous across other websites. In case you've made any changes to text size, font and other parts of pages, these cookies can also be used to remember these changes. They may also be used to provide services you've asked for example watching a video or commenting on a blog.

HOW LONG WILL COOKIES STAY ON MY BROWSING DEVICE?

The duration for which a cookie will stay on your browsing device depends on whether it is a "persistent" or "session" cookie. The duration of the Session cookies will be until you stop browsing the website and the Persistent cookies will stay on your browsing device until you delete it or they are expired.

FIRST AND THIRD PARTY COOKIES

First party cookies belong to us, while third party cookies are those cookies which third party places on your browsing device through our website. For example, if you click on the Facebook link then Facebook will place a cookie on your browsing device.

HOW TO CONTROL AND DELETE COOKIES THROUGH YOUR BROWSER

Cookies can be enabled, disabled or deleted by the browser which you are using to view the site. You can also follow the instructions provided by your browser (usually located within the "Help," "Tools" or "Edit" facility). If you set your browser to disable cookies, you may not be able to access certain parts of the Site.
